

Five Reasons why you can Benefit from a Relationship with Autonomic Software

Conventional wisdom suggests that a company that is small enough to help you when you need it and large enough to provide the just-right-for-you comprehensive products and services will save you time, money and a whole lot of headaches.

Five reasons for considering the small/large company Autonomic Software for your desktop management and security needs.

1. Autonomic Solutions - which means they are self monitoring, self regulating and self repairing solutions that include; Power Management, Asset Management, Patch Management, Configuration Management, Enterprise Reporting, Software Distribution and Software Audit and Compliance.
2. Special patents allows us to build our solutions with a very small footprint and fast enough not to sludge up your network.
3. Free desktop Power Management with a power company rebate program. If a program does not exist, payment will be taken out of the savings you achieve with a drastically reduced desktop power bills. Most companies achieve 50% to 70% savings...and for an extra benefit we install Power Manager for you.
4. We are still small enough to quickly respond to our customers need. Every single network is unique and we understand that sometimes a little tweaking is needed when we install our new solutions. Our aim is to assist your network to its optimum performance level. We are very good at tweaking.
5. We are large enough to provide you with award winning products and services that are comprehensive, scalable, and very dependable.
